Big turnout welcomes Gov. Brown to Claremont

Works toward compromise on doctors' insurance

By PHYLLIS CANNON PB Staff Writer

Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., speaking before a packed house Friday night at Griswold's in Claremont, said the medical malpractice proposal he made Friday probably would please neither the doctors nor the lawyers.

Brown's proposal was a state-run fund to ease the insurance problem and would include a landmark provision of some free care for the poor.

He asked how many doctors there were in the audience, then how many lawyers, adding lightly, "See, you doctors are in trouble - because all the legislators are lawyers.

"We've been working on it (the proposal) today, but A.M.A. (American Medical Assoc.) objects on one hand, and the legislators on the other. I hope to compromise and arrive at something and get it settled," he said.

Democrats, Brown said, are known as big spenders, but, he added, we've been holding the taxes down. "I'm asked all the time, when are you going to raise taxes? My answer is, when they march on Sacramento with placards saying 'tax me, tax me

'We only have the money you give us, then we have to make choices. The job is to sift out good things we should do and can afford to do. We are the richest state in the country, but there is a limit to what we can do," he said.

In his most serious comments of the evening, Brown talked about the 'intensive scrutiny'' being given agencies of the federal government.

He said he doubts the people of the country fully understand the impact

Brown said the people of California of what is being said about the CIA and FBI.

Someplace, we are going to have to reinstitute our sense of pride in our agencies, however frail they may be, because they are all we've got," Brown said

To which he replied, "I've got my hands full in Sacramento.

Brown's appearance was for a testimonial dinner honoring Assemblyman Bill McVittie, D-65th Dist., at Griswold's.

Mayors from Pomona, Chino, Montclair, Ontario and Upland commended McVittie for his support.

Over 500 persons attended the $100a-plate function.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - The judge in Patricia Hearst's bank robbery trial Friday reaffirmed his order barring press and public from Virginia H. Knauer, special assistant the jury selection process, but he promised to issue a full explanation

Shortly after the noon recess, defense attorney Albert Johnson said, Judge Carter summoned the remaining jury prospects into the main courtroom and sent all but 10 home until Monday.

Ford's idea for buyers called sham

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Ford Administration's plans for consumer involvement in federal agencies were coldly received Friday by California consumer advocates at a White House-sponsored conference.

The plans, President Ford's alternative to creating a single federal consumer protection agency, were characterized as "a sham" by a state consumer agency official and 'puff pieces' by a local bar association officer.

Ford, opposed to a bill creating the federal consumer agency, had instead directed Executive Branch agencies to find access for consumers in their decision-making machinery.

Friday's conference and eight others previously held were designed to promote the Ford program which he said would make federal agencies "more responsive to the needs of the American consumer.'

William Baroody, Ford's assistant office of public liaison, and for consumer affairs, defended the plans before an audience of about

One attack came from Ruth Yannatta, assistant to the director of the California Department of Consumer

'Our analysis indicates that they are, unfortunately, a sham," she said of the plans, and added they were "an all too obvious distortion of PR slogans, expensive staging techniques, bureaucratic jargon and empty promises."

Five judges strike down 'gag rule'

NEW YORK (AP) — A judge's gag rule forbidding publication of background information during a Brooklyn murder trial was struck down on appeal Friday, as a violation of the First Amendment guaranteeing freedom of the press.

One of five judges who agreed unanimously on the decision went beyond his colleagues and said in a separate opinion that the language of the First Amendment "should be taken at face value and not be frittered away by exceptions."

The Appellate Division granted a petition brought by the New York Times and the Daily News to vacate the gag, imposed on reporters by the trial judge, State Supreme Court Justice John Starkey.

Most victims were at Mass on top floor of nursing home

So many people injured, and nothing I could do: priest

CHICAGO (AP) - Fire broke out on the top floor of a nursing home and smoke poured into a chapel where elderly residents were attending Mass Friday, killing 13 patients and injuring more than 30 other persons.

Most of the victims were in the chapel of the four-story brick building. "If they had been in their rooms nothing would have happened." Fire Commissioner Robert Quinn said.

Many of the injured, who ranged in age from 65 to 82, were evacuated in wheel chairs. Some patients who could walk fled down a fire escape.

"I've lost a lot of people," one nurse said as tears ran down her face. She and two other nurses were taken by police to identify the vic-

Officials said there were about 100 persons, including about 80 patients, in the building when the blaze ignited about noon. The flames were extinguished an hour later. Fire officials said the fire apparently started in a closet.

Although Quinn said the flames spread to the chapel, the priest who was saying Mass there said that all he saw was smoke.

The Rev. William Pollard said he heard the fire alarm about noon and when he opened the chapel door, the smoke was thick and chest-high in the corridor.

The priest said he pitched in to try to extinguish the fire and then helped evacuate patients.

"I feel sad that so many people were injured and there was nothing I could do to help them," Father Pollard said.

Hospital officials said most of the injured were suffering from smoke inhalation, not burns. One policeman was reported injured.

A firefighter who was on the scene early said, "When I got there (the fourth floor) I saw a lot of smoke and a lot of people. They just didn't have a chance. Some of the victims were treated by doctors on the first floor. An employe of the home said the residents remaining at the home "have not panicked.

A social worker at the fourstory Wincrest Nursing and Rest Home said 83 elderly patients were counted in the morning census.

The city building department said the nursing home was built from fire-resistant materials, had concrete-reinforced floors, walls and Building inspectors gave the building a good rating and approved it for up to 88 occupants last September.

The city board of health also inspected the home Jan. 8 and gave it a good rating.

But not Brown

State primary ballot lists 9 Demo leaders

Democratic contenders for president were placed on California June 8 primary ballot Friday, but potential favorite son Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. was not among them.

On the Republican side, Secretary of State March Fong Eu put President Ford and former Gov. Ronald Reagan on the presidential primary

Democrats listed by Ms. Eu are Sens. Birch Bayh of Indiana, Lloyd Bentsen of Texas and Henry Jackson of Washington, former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, former Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma, Gov. Milton Shapp of Pennsylvania, former vice presidential nominee Sargent Shriver, Rep. Morris Udall of Wallace.

California law gives the secretary of state until April 5 to add more names to the list, and she said her first list includes only the names of active candidates, a category that does not fit Brown.

However, she said, Brown has not yet replied to her written inquiry of Jan. 6 as to whether he wants to be a favorite-son candidate. She said she would add his name to her list if he requests it.

But he added that a narrowing of the gap was taking place, partly because of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's negotiating trip to Moscow earlier this month.

On other topics, Ford said: -He has not decided yet whether to try to persuade Congress to lift its ban on American arms aid to factions in Angola but said of that decision, "I think it was a serious mistake by the Congress and I think we will live to regret it.

While still doubtful that courtordered busing is the best solution to racial integration of the schools, he said, "I think the courts themselves are beginning to find some better answers" and cited an amended busing order affecting Detroit.

-Asked to explain January's rapid rise in stock market prices, he declared, "It must reflect the growing confidence of a great many people in the steps we are taking to improve the economy."

-As for his own election campaign, the President said, "I think we're on the right track," adding that he was optimistic and felt his campaign would produce results.

-Reminded by a questioner that Republican challenger Ronald Reagan has accused the administration of "dirty tricks" in New Hampshire, Ford asserted: "Any allegation as to dirty tricks is com-

The President began his meeting with the broadcasters by citing his conferences this week with Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin. He said the major U.S. objective in the Middle East now is to make sure that negotiations toward a settlement

Any stalemate or stagnation, he said, "would enhance the possibility of another blowup in that part of the world."

'Splinter group' leader rapped in housing feud

By JON MORRIS PB Staff Writer

A group of Chino residents opposing a 72-unit spartment complex Friday launched a strongly worded attack on one homeowner who they claim misrepresented their interests.

More than 2.500 copies of a newsletter blasting the homeowner were distributed to residents of housing tracts near the proposed apartments at Mountain Avenue and Riverside Drive, according to Sandra Stokes, chairperson of Chinoans Acting for Responsible Environment (CARE).

Mrs. Stokes charged that Dick Sawhill, the homeowner, "does not and never did represent our group. Mr. Sawhill at this time is only interested in Mr. Sawhill.

Sawhill resigned from CARE last week and formed his own splinter group with Gary Langley, Mrs. Stokes stated "They're going underground and trying to break up our group from within."

In response to Mrs. Stokes' charges, Sawhill claimed he is being "persecuted" for approaching the apartment issue in a different way. CARE's statements have been inconsistent, he added.

The way Mrs. Stokes tells it. Sawhill allegedly gathered information about the apartment issue that he refused to share with CARE. Sawhill continually asked for support as a write-in candidate for the City Council in the March 2 election, she said.

"I told him I was uncomfortable with him,' added Mrs. Stokes. "His goals were different from ours. He's a labor negotiator for Alpha Beta Markets and we felt he was involved in the issue for his company's benefit.'

Mrs. Stokes noted that Alpha Beta would not allow Sawhill to become a writein candidate. "He then resigned from our group and accused us of being political.

One reason Mrs. Stokes feels Sawhill may be working with the city, rather than the homeowners, is his statement at Wednesday night's meeting with all parties involved that he felt it was "dumb to have one apartment building in the area." (Mrs. Stokes said CARE was asking if the other three corners at Mountain and Riverside could be rezoned from the present apartment or commercial zoning.)

We feel Sawhill has been promised the next Planning Commission opening by the mayor,' she declared.

Sawhill, meanwhile, says CARE pursued him as a write-in candidate but "my company wouldn't let me run. I then told CARE I did not want to be involved in the politics of their group. I just wanted to resolve the apartment issue.

He charged CARE did not demand a halt to construction of the apartment complex at Wednesday's meeting, but rather a modification of the developer's plans. "They later told others they asked for a stoppage.

CARE is using "more politics than we desire," said Sawhill. "We wanted to possibly relocate the complex or rezone but they never talked about that.

Sawhill noted that he and Langley did at one time represent CARE, contrary to a claim by Mrs. Stokes. "I was committee advisor and Langley was in charge of legal investigation. When we found out the group was getting into politics we resigned.

Residents have been misled as to his intentions, Sawhill said. "If we're out to get something for ourselves I'd like to know what it is. We're getting a bum rap CARE apparently will proceed with plans for legal action against American National Housing, according to Mrs. Stokes. The group has collected affidavits from residents stating they were told by the developer that homes rather than apartments would be built on the corner in question.

The homeowners also plan to attend the Planning Commission meeting Monday and City Council Tuesday, to again voice their objections to the devel-

CMA files suit over low fees

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - The California Medical Association filed suit in federal court Friday seeking relief from what it called illegally low physician fees which are 'sabotaging' the state's Medi-Cal program.

The suit asks the court to either order California to increase Medi-Cal payments to physicians or else bar the federal government from further funding of the medical program.

Joining the CMA in the class action suit is Dr. William S. Hendricks, a Watts physician whose practice includes more tha 90 per cent Medi-Cal recipients.

The court was told that even though the law requires a state to set fees so as to enlist participation by enough doctors to ensure "mainstream medicine" to the indigent, California has set a fee structure solely as a means of cost control.

It was set, the suit claims, "without due regard to the needs and rights of Medi-Cal patients to receive proper care and the rights of doctors to be reimbursed at a proper level. The CMA charges that the fees are so low that they "subvert the intent of the Medicaid (federal) program by discouraging physicians from treating Medi-Cal patients."

Enrollment boom tightening up college selections

By MARTHA TASCHEREAU Pitzer College Staff

Over a million high school seniors are expected to take the college entrance exams this year and if the enrollment boom continues in the nation's colleges and universities, 1.9 million will enroll as college

With enrollments up almost 10 per cent in 1975 - this highest one-year increase in a decade - admissions committees are raising their hopes and their standards.

This year, spokesmen predict, it will be harder than ever to be accepted by the 350 or so U.S. colleges and universities classified on the basis of admissions standards, as 'selective' or "highly selective."

Who gets into these colleges? Telephone interviews with admissions officers from a dozen colleges revealed that strong high school grades in college prep subjects is the single most important factor, followed by high test scores on either the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Program (ACT) examination.

'We look first at the grades,' said William Lowery, admissions director at Pitzer College, one of the Claremont Colleges.

'Good grades in strongly academic subjects show that the student is intrigued with the idea of performing well. But very high scores, coupled with lackluster grades, are rarely an indication that sutdents will do an about face when they enter

"Given equal cases, we would choose the student with high

As a rule, ACT advises students that if they want to go to a school classified as "selective", they need to be in the top 25 percent of their high school graduating class, have ACT composite scores averaging between 21-25 and SAT scores totaling at least 950-1150.

The "very selective" colleges and that's only 74 of the 3,723 accredited two and four year colleges and universities in the country look for students in the top 10 percent of their high school graduating class, with ACT composite scores averaging between 25-29 and SAT test scores which total a minimum score

A veteran of admissions work said. "In every pool of applicants, there are those we will obviously admit, those we will obviously reject and then that great middle group we will

At this point all formulae break down. Some colleges are looking for a certain type of student, someone who will "fit in" to the community. Some are seeking different types for

Some don't care about community

Said an admission officer from the University of California; "We don't care how nice a candidate is as a person. If he or she qualifies by our formula, he or she gets accepted."

There are exceptions even at UC. On the Berkeley and Davis campuses, applications for freshmen are only taken during the month of November. Fifty percent of the students are accepted on the basis of grades. The rest are selected by

When an admissions committee sets out to find the students who 'will do well and be happy here'' the process becomes subjective, sometimes mystical. "Say you've received 10,000 applications, but you can only accept 1,500," said an admission officer from Stanford. There has to be something in the record that sets that person apart from all those other people with similar records.

It is at this point that essays, interviews (if the school recommends them), personal accomplishments, extracurricular activities, recommendations become important.

'We read the essay carefully. said Mary Ellen Ames, director of the Board of Admissions at Wellesley College. "They can be very revealing.

'The answers which make the best a "balanced" community: an impressions are the ones that reveal curiosity, originality, something unique about the person. A sense of humor can be very important. It can be enough to make the committee say, "We want this person.

Interviews vary in importance. Schools that require them (Harvard-Radcliffe, Bennington, and Wellesley, for example) often utilize alumni and faculty members to interview people who live far away from the campus

Colorado College talks to candidates, but does not evaluate them in interview situations.

At Pitzer, an interview is optional. 'Different colleges have different admissions filters which screen out and exclude certain types of people,' Lowery said. "An interview can give the student an idea about what kind of filter is operating." He added, "an interview is completely subjective. We don't give it much weight in the admissions process.

The student who joins activities in high school just to impress the admissions committee is making a mistake, say those interviewed.

'There's a distinction between amassing activities for the record and in demonstrating real strength, real power in some field like photography or dance or writing,' says Pitzer's Lowery. "We look for evidence that students channeled their energies into paths that had real meaning to themselves.

Miss Ames at Wellesley said, "Quality of the activity is more important than quantity. We want to know what they learned from the ac-

Personal qualities of the candidates are also considered. Harvard interviewer Mary Moser says, "Say the record shows that the student works hard, is conscientious and reliable. He or she could get through Harvard. But would they get anything out of the Boston-Harvard scene? Would they be able to relay and enjoy the experience? There's no kindness in admitting someone who is simply not psychologicially tough enough to handle it.'

And at Pitzer, the question is: are they self-motivated, independent, self-assertive? "Pitzer students are asked to make a large number of highly significant choices very quickly," Lowery said. "They have a chance to make decisions concerning the governance of the college. A student who lacks inner direction will not be happy here.

Between now and April 15, the faculty members, students, administrators and sometimes alumni who make up the admission committees of selective colleges, will be meeting and agonizing over their

Who will get in? Stanford Dean of Admissions Fred Hargadon likes to quote novelist Peter DeVries on this question

'Gaining admission to a selective college is like trying to get a loan from a bank: they won't give it to you unless you can prove to them you faculty-staff dining room.

The city of Claremont is proud of its 14,000-plus trees, but is having difficulty choosing an acceptable one for 22 planters in the Village redevelopment project.

The City Council turned the matter back to the Parkways and Trees Commission after that group recommended, with reservations, the northern red oak. At present, there is not a northern red oak anywhere in the city.

The commission feels the oak is a magnificent tree, growing as high as 90 feet, but that it should not be planted in such a prominent place as Yale Avenue until properly tested.

Commission chairman Ethel Benjamin told the council that the city would be taking a chance in planting the red oak, and explained that the city of La Verne has taken it off its street tree list. Whatever tree the city chooses will be specimens with 2 1/2 to threeinch trunks in 24-inch boxes. They will be put into 18-foot-wide planters, jutting 18 feet out into Yale Avenue between First and Fourth streets.

Two parking spaces have been sacrificed for planters at each location, but the city is allowing for more parking spaces in the Village by changing the parking angle from 45 to 55 degrees.

First choice for a planter tree was the evergreen elm, but that was discounted quickly because of fear of the potential Dutch Elm disease.

The London Plane Tree, a type of sycamore, was next, but the Village Advisory Action Committee turned that down. In other matters the council has adopted a resolution petitioning

Caltrans to close the pedestrian underpass of the San Bernardino

Freeway at Mountain Avenue at the end of the school year. The Pomona City Council and the Pomona school board are expected to adopt resolutions to support Claremont's petition. All three actions are required by Caltrans. The tunnel has been used by thieves, local police believe. The council also agreed to the necessary legal steps entailed in swapping adjacent six-acre parcels

Records fall at Winternationals

Dale Funk of Valley Station, Ken-third at 5.88, Tom Toler of Glendale tucky and Tripp Shumake of Phoenix, Arizona set new L.A. County Fairgrounds records Friday to highlight the second day of qualifying for the 16th Annual Winternationals drag races.

Funk, winner of the 1975 National Hot Rod Assocation Gatornationals at Gainesville, Fla., recorded a quater-mile elapsed time of 5.78 seconds to take over the number one spot in top fuel. Shumake, driving Dennis Fowler's Sun Dance Chevy, turned in a best run of 6.13 seconds in funny car.

With a full day of qualifying remaining today, both of these records could be short-lived, however.

Close behind Funk in top fuel was 1974 Winternational winner and prerace favorite Gary Beck of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada at 5.79 seconds. Seven other cars were in the fives, including Beck's number two mount, driven by Graham Light of Spruce Grove, Alberta, Canada.

Frank Bradley of Napa, Calif. was

Leaders in the other pro brackets were Warren Johnson of Pridley, Minnesota at 8.79 seconds in prostock and Bill Williams of Torrance at 6.76 in pro comp.

One accident marred Friday's otherwise orderly qualifying at the Fairgrounds. Tom Anderson of Wapak. Ohio suffered minor burns when the engine of his funny car exploded about 900 feet down the drag strip, spraying him with burning alcohol. Anderson was treated at Pomona Valley Hospital and returned to the track later in the day.

Vikings win for the TV cameras

By MIKE BROSSART PB Staff Writer

Garey High coach Mike Wells doesn't think Sunday's television replay of his Vikings' game with Damien is going to help the Vikings' rating in the CIF 3A, where they are currently ranked eighth

It's not that Garey didn't beat Damien Friday night. The Vikings came out on top, 82-69, at Garey in a game that was taped by television station KNBC (channel 4) and will be aired Sunday at 11 a.m. on the Prep Sports World show.

But Wells, never easy to please on the basketball court, was disgusted with his squad's performance.

"It was terrible," he said after the game. "I've never seen us so radical Everybody was doing something dif-

"On defense - well, I didn't even think we had one most of the time. And our defense was taking too many chances and we let them (the Spartans) get by us too much. "I don't know - maybe it was the excitement.

There was plenty of that. As if a capacity crowd - about 1,500 were not enough, two television cameras served to get players and fans alike charged up.

Happy Hairston, formerly of the Lakers, did the color commentary for KNBC, and Bryant Gumbel called the play-by-play.

Gumbel, with smooth good looks and his top two shirt buttons loosened, caused quite a sensation among the Garey coeds seated behind the officials' table.

And after the game, two Viking players - forward Gary Carpenter and guard Stanley Webster - were interviewed before the camera for possible replay

Garey, 8-0 in San Antonio League play and 15-5 on the year, maintained its two-game lead on Ganesha, 65-41 winner over Montclair Friday night, while Damien, 5-3, 11-8, dropped to third place

Carpenter led Garey with 24 points and 20 rebounds, guard Kent Jordan scored 19. Webster added 11 and James Lofton and Milton Banks added 10 apiece

Damien forward Mike Wetenkamp led all scorers with 30, teammate Jon Kolodge tossed in 19 and Bill Duffy added 12.

Wetenkamp and Kolodge each hit four field goal tries without a miss in the final period as Wetenkamp scored 11 and Kolodge nine.

Wells' displeasure was largely caused by his squad's shot selection. The Vikings hit just 33 of 83 tries

The Spartans played right with the Vikings in the early going, and held a 20-17 lead after the first quarter, in which Wetenkamp scored 10 points. The Vikings quickly caught Damien in the second quarter, but had quite a bit of foul trouble. Less than a minute into the second period, each Viking starter had two fouls and the team had 11 in all.

But Garey shut out Wetenkamp in the second period and outscored the Spartans, 19-7. A turnaround jumper by Carpenter with three seconds left gave the Vikes a 36-27 halftime lead:

We were doing okay when we were playing our game," said Damien coach Bill Roberts during the intermission. "But then we started running up and down the floor with them and we can't do that.

Broncs best Bakersfield

By BILL LANGLEY PB Sports Editor

BAKERSFIELD - Cal Poly established itself as a team to beat in the California Collegiate Athletic Association basketball race here Friday night.

The Broncs enjoyed a hard-fought 87-83 victory over host Cal State Bakersfield in an early showdown for the CCAA race.

Thanks to the victory, Poly takes a 3-0 conference record into tonight's clash at arch-rival Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, a 53-51 loser in overtime to UC Riverside Friday night

After falling behind early, when the Roadrunners scored 12 straight points, Poly bounced back to enjoy the lead throughout the second half in recording its seventh consecutive victory for a 10-6 overall record.

Bakersfield, 15-3 for the year, and 2-1 in CCAA play, entered the game as the 10th ranked team in the national NCAA division II poll and tops on the West Coast.

'This was a fantastic game,' said Poly Coach Don Hogan after the thrilling victory. "Bakersfield kept coming at us but our guys kept their Hogan's Heroes enjoyed a 46-45 advantage on the boards but committed 22 turnovers to CSB's 13.

It was another rough game as the Roadrunners resorted to fouling during the later moments in an effort to get the ball

The strategy worked as the Broncs could make only 19 of 33 free throws (57.6 per cent) in failing to salt the victory away earlier

Poly's dynamo, 5 foot 7 guard Tom Ispas was the chief target as he spent much of the evening on the floor trying to pick up the pieces.

They were crazy out there," battered Ispas said. "One guy tried to tear my leg off.' As usual, senior guard Joe Sills led the Broncs by scoring 24 points. He was followed by Jack Gamulin with 21, Ispas 15, Paul Newton 12 and Mark Bernhard 10.

Forward Warren Jackson and guard Mike Hooper each scored 20 to pace the Roadrunners. Guard Greg Johnwell, the team's top scorer for the season, was held to eight points but had a school record 10 assists.

All five Poly starters shot 50 per cent or better with Gamulin (10-17), Ispas (7-11) and Bernhard (4-5) leading the way

We played a flat game but we played pretty good defense tonight," said coach Gary Fulkerson." Defense was the story of the game as Montclair didn't respond to our pressure defense.

Montclair who ended the first half trailing 29-13 didn't help itself, as the Cavs took many poor percentage shots and failed to block out the Ganesha rebounders on the board. Montclair was outrebounded 33-13 by the Giants in the first half.

Coach Fulkerson noted, "We were lousy offensively tonight despite the big point margin. Although George Terry had a pretty good offensive night. Eddings and Williams picked us up in the first half.

Montclair tried to bounce back in the third quarter cutting Ganesha's lead to nine points, but any chance of pulling the game out was ended when the Giants blitzed the Cavaliers with a 10-2 surge at the beginning of the fourth quarter. Ganesha finished with 53 rebounds as they continued to hit the boards in the second half. Williams was the top boardman for the Giants gathering in 11 rebounds. James Verdon added 10 Montclair top point men were Tom Long and Bruce Lavalle with eight points apiece.

Bearcats hold off late Walnut surge

By TIM CLARK PB Correspondent

Junior guard Jeff Davis, who had kept his Walnut Mustangs in the running for a victory Friday night at Bonita High by continually popping in clutch baskets, missed the two most important free throws of his life with six seconds remaining in the contest, as the host Bearcats prevailed, 61-59.

Davis, attempting to tie the game and send it into a probable overtime. was fouled by Bonita's Steve Benoit at the 0:06 mark as he (Davis) went up for a 15-footer.

Following a Bonita timeout, Davis' first charity bounced off the rim. while the last gasp attempt ricocheted into the arms of Bonita's super-sub, Keith Brandt. Brandt curled himself over the sphere as time ran out for the Musangs, with Bearcat fans erupting out of the jampacked stands.

The Bearcats seemingly had their 14th win of the year wrapped up, holding a 55-44 advantage with 5:03 remaining to play. But a very impressive, gutty surge on the part of the visitors put the game into "cardiac country." Davis and reserves Hans Meyer and Doug Vind sparked the comeback, as Walnut took the lead for the first time since the first quarter, 57-56, with 2:40 showing on the clock.

It was then that Brandt took control. The 6-foot-1 junior forced two Mustangs turnovers, and passed off for two assists, both going to Bearcat center Steve Sly, who scored 24 points (10 of Bonita's 13 fourth quarter markers).

Ironically, however, it was Brandt who gave Walnut an opportunity to tie the score when he threw a Sly outlet pass out of bounds with 14 seconds left. Thus set the stage for Davis.

Lakers fall to Portland

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Signey Wicks and Geoff Petrie pumped in 30 points each and Portland's Trail Blazers downed the Los Angeles Lakers 121-113 in a National Basketball Association game Friday night.

Wicks and Petrie scored 40 of their team's 64 second-half points as the Blazers won their fifth game in a row and improved their record to 21-27. The Lakers dropped below .500 at 24-

Los Angeles center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar led all scorers with 35 points, 21 in the second half. Gail Goodrich scored 22 and Lucius Allen added 19.

The Blazers also got 16 points from 6-foot-11 center Bill Walton before he halftime and were leading 80-79 with 41/2 minutes left in the third period. Then Larry Steele took a Wicks pass and drove in for a layup. Portland wound up scoring 10 points in a row at that stage to take command.

Los Angeles appeared to have the momentum in the second period after Portland led 53-49 with 5:36 left. At that point, the Lakers clawed back behind Russell and Goodrich, outscoring the Blazers 17-4.

booters triumph

Claremont High continued to march in the San Antonio League soccer games played Friday afternoon, as the Wolfpack booters downed host Pomona 3-0

The win kept Claremont atop the SAL soccer standings, as the school now sports a 7-0-1 league mark. Overall the 'Pack is 11-3-1.

Claremont got a quick start against Pomona as Scott Kegans and Jim Todd struck for goals in the first ten minutes of the game. Gregg Kaufman added another score before the half was over and the Woltpack defense kept the Devils away in the final 20 minutes.

Damien staved in the running for the SAL title by blanking Garey 3-0. The win gives the Spartans a 5-0-3 league record and a 8-3-3 overall mark.

Rick Davis scored twice and Brian Sullivan once to pace the Damien victory.

Elsewhere in the league. Ganesha scored its first win of the loop season by downing Montclair 2-1. Giant goals by John Jacobs and Melvin Jenkins offset the lone Cavalier tally by Rick Adams. In the other SAL tilt played Friday. Chino outshot Upland 3-2.

All eight SAL teams will return to the soccer wars on Wednesday, with the premier game on tap being the clash between Claremont and Damien. That match will be played at Damien starting at 7 p.m.

Other SAL games have Pomona at Upland, Garey at Montclair and Ganesha at Chino. All those are afternoon contests.

Connors powers past foe

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Jimmy Connors, seeking to regain his status as the world's top tennis player, overpowered veteran Rod Laver, 6-3, 6-4, Friday night to advance to the semifinal round of the $115,000 U.S. Pro Indoor Tennis Tournament.

In an earlier quarterfinal, Bjorn Borg, the bobby-soxers' darling from Sweden, battled his way into a semifinal berth with a 7-6, 6-0 triumph over Jan Kodes, the Czech who has returned to the pro tour after a year's absence.

The 23-year-old Connors will meet 34-year-old Dick Stockton of Dallas in one of Saturday's two semifinal matches.

The 19-year-old Borg will meet the winner of Friday night's last quarter-final between Eddie Dibbs of Miami and Tom Okker of The Netherlands.

The 5-foot-11 Connors, who earned $613,364 in prize money last year but lost his No. 1 ranking to Arthur Ashe, simply overwhelmed the 37-yearold Laver, who has won more matches than any other player in World Championship Tennis tour history

Connors sailed through the first set with secondand fifthgame breaks. He put the set away when aver vollied a cross-court shot into the net.

Laver, the 5-foot-8 Australian who now lives in Corona del Mar. Cal., made a match out of it in the second set. He broke through Connors in the fourth game with a backhand placement down the line, held his service in a six-point game, and then broke Connors again in the sixth game to take a 4-2 lead.

Connors, however, won the next three games with a loss of only three points to go ahead 5-4. He finished off the match after Laver a service ace.

Tigers avenge loss shock 'Pack

Chaffey High avenged its only Citrus Belt League loss with a 68-58 win over host Fontana Friday night, while Ontario downed Sierra Vista, 49-37, La Verne Lutheran lost Notre Dame. 76-55 and Ontario Christian fell to Valley Christian, 46-45.

The Tigers had earlier lost a home game to Fontana, 53-44. They are now 7-I in league play and remain tied for first place with San Gorgonio, 65-62 winner over Redlands Friday

Fontana got off to a quick start against Chaf- and John Mattke with 16 fey, scoring nine points before Eric Schessler's free throw gave the Tigers their first point of the game

Chaffey was down, 10-5, after a quarter, but trailed by just a point, 25-24 at half. The Tigers scored eight in a row during the third period to take a 48-41 lead after three quarters, and Fontana could get no closer than six after that.

Center Mark McQuaid lead the Tigers with 24 points, followed by forward Anthony Munoz

Seattle to get A.L. franchise

NEW YORK (AP) - The city of Seattle is expected to get a baseball team to-

That move, plus discussion on further major league expansion, was expected to take place when American League owners meet here at a downtown hotel

Earlier this month at Phoenix, the 12 AL owners decided in principle to expand to Seattle in 1977, as well as discuss possible expansion to 14 teams.

The National League owners reportedly are cool toward expansion at this time, but Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said he's not in favor of unilateral action.

If the owners do okay the move to Seattle, that would negate a $32.5 million damage suit now underway in Everett, Wash.

Activity lagged at the trial Friday while attorneys indicated they would watch the New York expansion talks closely. Seattle, King county and the state of Washington seek those damages and claim that the league committed fraud, breach of contract and antitrust violations when it moved the ill-starred Seattle Pilots to Milwaukee following the 1969 season.

Talking about the probable Seattle action. American League President Lee MacPhail said

"We expect to formally implement this decision at our meeting Saturday. No steps beyond this have been considered, pending coordination of our plans with the National League.

The addition of only one club to the AL, however, would make for unwieldy scheduling with one team always being idle. So the AL owners would like to add two teams at a time or else coordinate with the National League in adding one team. Interleague scheduling would solve the problem of 13 clubs in each

The unresolved situation in San Francisco has added further to the AL problem. The NL voted to move the Giants from San Francisco to Toronto, but the city of San Francisco has filed an injunction to stop the shift.

If Toronto doesn't land the Giants, the AL would be interested in placing a franchise there. Washington, Buffalo and New Orleans are other possible expansion cities. Lester Smith, a Seattle businessman whose group includes entertainer Danny Kaye, is a potential purchaser of the new Seattle franchise and is scheduled to meet with the AL owners here Saturday. His group failed in its bid to purchase the Giants.

Kush will stay at ASU

Arizona State Coach Frank Kush has informed the Philadelphia Eagles he is not interested in the National Football League team's head coaching job, and Harvard's Joe Restic has now become a prime candidate for the post.

'We gave it our best shot, but apparently Kush's ties back there are too strong," an Eagles source said. Kush informed the Eagles of his decision Friday morning. "Really, I've given it a great deal of thought,' Kush said in Phoenix before flying to Boston for a coaches' clinic. He said there were a "great number of factors" involved in his decision, but added, "Basically, I think I would be more content with the collegiate youngsters. He would not discuss details of the coaching offer from the Eagles, but when asked whether the offer was "lucrative," Kush replied, "That's as good a word as any. "I don't think money is the key factor, because if it would have been, I would have taken the job," he said. Meanwhile, Eagles officials have reportedly held preliminary talks over the past three weeks with Restic, who led Harvard to the 1975 Ivy League championship.

Restic, a 49-year-old native of Hastings, Pa., reasons for staying here.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) succeeded John Yovicsin at Harvard in 1971 and in five seasons has posted a 30-14-1 record, including one co-championship and one outright Ivy League ti-Restic fits what Eagles owner Leonard Tose is looking for. Tose has said he wants a successful offensive coach. Restic uses an intricate "multiflex" offense and is known as an innovator, a free-thinker.

The Eagles say a specific offer was not made to Kush to succeed Mike McCormack, who was fired a day after the 1975 season ended. He would have been given a multi-year contract and complete autonomy in directing the football operation.

Kush, 46, has compiled a 151-39-1 record at Arizona State. This past season the Sun Devils were 12-0, including a Fiesta Bowl victory over Nebraska, and were ranked second in the nation. He had been inundated with letters from Arizona State boosters pleading with him not to accept the Eagles post.

A target of numerous pro coaching offers in the past, Kush would not rule out accepting such a post in the future.

'About the time I would say that, someone would show up and call me a hypocrite," he said. 'Presently, we're staying at Arizona State. There are about a hundred positive

(AP) - Michigan State University's executive vice presidemt, Jack Breslin, was relieved Friday of his responsibility for the school's controversial football program.

In a surprise announcement at the monthly Board of Trustees meeting, Michigan State President Clifton Wharton accepted Breslin's resignation.

It came in the wake of heavy criticism for some 34 football recruiting violations leveled on the university by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The trustees also an nounced today they would not challenge the NCAA decision in court, as had been indicated earlier. 'After a thorough review of the possible steps and consequences, the trustees have decided against any legal action at this time," a brief statement from the university said.

The trustees said court action would take too much money. Breslin has had little public contact with the NCAA controversy, but said in a letter to Wharton today, "Contrary to what the facts are, I suspect it is perceived that my leadership in this area has been lacking, and because of this I request this change.

Breslin, 55, has been in charge of intercollegiate athletics at Michigan State for the past five years. He will retain his other responsibilities in personnel, placement services and other areas.

The NCAA last week placed Michigan State on three years' probation and limited the recruiting efforts of its top two assistant football coaches because of the violations.

Breslin said he thought new leadership was needed to rebuild the athletic The university is expected to appoint a new permanent athletic director by the end of February ### drops Preakness quadrennial event. agreement signed last five-year contract, but

CBS has called a halt to what it calls "wild escalation" in the networks bidding war for the right to cover non-prime sports events. (com) '64 - Cary Grant.

(E) Movie: "Gang War" (dra) '58
-Charles Bronson, Kent Taylor.

"Yesterday we notified the Preakness that we were pulling out," Robert Wussler, president of CBS Sports, said Friday. "Over the course of the next month, we will notify all the people we do business with that there are some things we are interested in, but the rest of them will have to make it on their own.

CBS has televised the Preakness, second jewel in thoroughbred racing's Triple Crown, since 1948. Wussler said CBS was paying $300,000 for the 1976 race at Pimlico, the last year of a four-year contract. He said the network offered a 20 per cent increase for a new ABC nearly doubled the offer to $600,000.

We debated long and hard," Wussler said, "and we decided to take a pass. "There are certain events that I would put in the 'superstar' classification which are worth losing money on because of the high intrinsic value involved," he said. "There are maybe another 25 events would be nice to have, but I don't think they any longer are worth the wild bidding.

The events he considered prime include the Kentucky Derby, which CBS had for 25 years before losing it to ABC last year; the Rose Bowl, outbid by NBC this year; the Masters, the Super Bowl, the World Series, the U.S. Open Tennis Championships, perhaps Wimbledon, and the Summer Olympics, a

'The Preakness doesn't fall into that category,

Wussler said. "We had to draw the line, and this is Wussler, using the Preakness as an example, pointed out that such nonprime events were not good business ventures. 'Lets say you pay $300,000 for the rights. It costs $125,000 to produce it. You pay $50,000 to the (affiliated) stations to carry it. That's a total figure of $475,000 for an hour.

With that in mind, any profit must come from commercials, say eight minutes in the hour. If he gets $50,000 a minute, or $400,000, the network stands to lose $75,000.

Although CBS is giving up on the Preakness, it still will televise the final leg of the Triple Crown, the Belmont, under a five-year year."We have a good working relationship with the New York Racing Association and will televise at least 10 of their races a year for the next four years," Wussler said.

> Although the network grabs in 1979.

says it is retrenching from the wild escalation, it probably will be back bidding for the Kentucky Derby when it comes up for

UNLUCKY LAZ - When trainer Laz Barrera decided to ship his major string of thoroughbreds to Santa Anita from New York this winter, he was bringing West what many observers believed would be a stronger contingent of Derby prospects than any Western stable could boast. Barrera was so enthusiastic about his sophomore stock, he filled out eligibility slips for nine horses to the Santa Anita Derby when nominations to that Arcadia classic

Although Barrera currently is enjoying a highly productive season, there have been many disappointments. Bold Forbes, for one, has not recaptured the form that made the Irish Castle colt the nation's fastest two-year-old last year. So far this year, Bold Forbes sports a second and a third in two sprints, both times being beaten as a heavy public favorite.

Then, a promising Cornish Prince colt, Hearty Chuckle, won a maiden event in impressive style a few weeks ago, but was injured in a training accident shortly after and had to be put down.

Kirby Lane, rated as Gedney Farms' most promising colt since Gun Bow, easily disposed of allowance foes on New Year's Day, then bucked his shins badly in a subsequent workout and will be out of action until at least March. "It will be touch and go to make the Derby with Kirby Lane," said Barrera. The Santa Anita Derby? "No, the Kentucky Derby." That tells you how highly regarded Kirby Lane was.

THEY ASKED FOR IT - The New York Racing Association instituted year-round racing for the first time this year amid warnings that competition during the winter months would be at the mercy of Mother Nature, during the weeks following Christmas.

Last Monday the rains fell so heavily and the track condition became so dangerous that jockeys at Aqueduct refused to ride the eighth and ninth race. Three horses had fallen in the seventh race near a wet spot down the backstretch

The jockeys gave it a go the following afternoon, but threw in the towel after the second race. Seems the frozen moisture on the track had begun to thaw, making the surface slippery in the backstretch chute, and that they would not compete in any race scheduled for more than

Because thousands of dollars had already been wagered through OTB on Tuesday's races, the stewards could not arbitrarily shorten any of the contests slated to begin out of the chute. So, the rest of the afternoon's card was cancelled, and OTB had to undertake the monumental task of refunding all of the wagers.

play chess well enough to hold your own against the best players in the world? Oh, you're not a chess play-You're looking for the crossword puzzle. You don't remember how the knight moves. All the better, here's how to do it?

Set up two games to be played by you simultaneously with two diferent opponents (preferably of world championship class) in two ajacent rooms. One opponent will play the white pieces against the other, the

The player of the white pieces will begin with his first move. You will then go to the other room (where you are white) and make that move "yourself" against your second opponent. His reply will be taken by you to the first room and played there as your move against your first opponent, and so on

Whatever the result of the game(s), you will finish with an even score either a win and a loss or two draws!

You might try this scheme in postal chess. If you get the betting odds "deserve, clean up.

BEGINNER'S COR-NER - Hint and explanation: White has a queen for a rook and should win. But he has mistakenly allowed this position. Black can force a draw through stalemate. Do you see it?

American Champ Loses

U.S. Champion Walter Browne did not repeat his 1974 victory last year in the very strong Wijk Aan Zee Tournament in the Netherlands. One of the reasons was a smashing loss he suffered at the hands of Czech superclass grandmaster, Vladimir Hort.

(SOLVE-IT), Hort found a daring breakthrough. He sacrificed his knight with NxBP! to emerge a pawn ahead three moves

Doc Peirsol It happened

It goes without saying that in the year 1892 grocer prices were far lower than they are today. But then where grocery prices are concerned isn't it all just a matter of relativity? Certainly food prices were unbelievably low in the early 1890s - but then, you wouldn't believe the wages our Pomona forefathers were receiving either Thus it is not too surprising to learn that in 1892 there were some families in this area who were definitely finding it a bit of a problem to pay their grocery bills. So since at that time the government hadn't yet invented food stamps, how, you ask, did those financially embarrassed Pomonans manage to eat?

Well, it wasn't easy! But in those days our townspeople were on the whole a resourceful lot. And what was probably even more important, Pomona grocers were noted for the personal interest they took in the welfare of their customers. It's a matter of printed record that right here in Pomona we were extremely fortunate to have a grocer named Cole who, as an early day substitute for today's food stamp program, was operating his own personal grocery price relief plan. You can read all about it in his advertisement which appeared in the Sept. 24, 1892 issue of The Pomona Weekly Times. It stated

E. E. Cole, grocer, corner of Main and Second streets will take at full price all kinds of country produce in exchange for groceries.

QUESTION: We have in our family the child's aresser shown here. It was made to hold doll clothes, and judging by its fine construction, I believe it was built by a master craftsman. It has four narrow drawers between the mirror and two wider drawers full length of the dressing table top. It is 21 inches wide, 16 inches high and 9 inches deep. The mirror is 8 inches by 16 inches and perfect. Is this dresser a collectible item and what might its value be? We know its three previous owners and it has to be at least 100 years old. H.O.W. (Northwest)

ANSWER: Your small dresser is worth around $75, and such pieces are of interest to collectors

A select group at Chino High

Highly visible on the Chino High School campus for the past three years has been a group of uniformed students, a third of them female, who make up a select, highly motivated organization called the U. S. Air Force High School Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Basically the students are studying aviation, aerodynamics and the space age, a curriculum that encompasses physics, mathematics, physiology, English, military operations and leadership. Extracurricularly the cadets have a model airplane club, take part in competitive drill, publish a newspaper, operate a speaker's bureau and participate in numerous fund-raising and community service pro-

The Aerospace and Leadership Education Program was initiated by Congress in 1965 to provide science-oriented military training to high school and college students. Congress authorized 215 centers, of which Chino High School is the only one between San Bernardino and Santa Ana. Other local high schools have expressed an interest in participating in the program.

The USAF provides at no cost to the school district the text books (regularly updated), training aids and audio-visual equipment and materials. The only requirements are that the course cover the subjects of general aviation and space, and that leadership training be a major part of the program. The cadet uniforms are loaned to the students by the government, and must be worn at least 30 days during the school year.

The aerospace education course is recognized by the state Department of Education as a fully accredited course in aviation and space and is accepted by all colleges and unidron in Europe. After the war he served as deputy inspector general for the 15th Air Force, inspecting air bases from Guam to Alaska to the Mississippi River.

Booth is assisted by Senior M-Sgt. Howard D. Riddle, and the rest of the staff is made up of cadets of the 100-member corps.

"We couldn't operate a full military office without them." Booth said. "Our first year is a course in the background of space and aviation and also gives a pretty good insight into what it takes to be a leader in the military." Booth said. "In the second and third years we go into the subjects in depth: How do you navigate? How do you use the pilot systems?"

A unique feature of the aerospace education program is the vast number of activities outside the classroom, activities organized and carried out by the cadets themselves as part of the leadership training model rocket club, cadet newspaper, competitive drill team and marching units, photography projects, and the speakers bureau, which sends students to service clubs and other organizations to give slide reports on the ROTC activities and the latest aero and space programs. Funds are raised by the cadets in car washes, candy sales, bottle collections and other activities. So far this year the students have raised $1,100.

The ROTC program at Chino High School is an active and educationally stimulating program that motivates students to learn, encourages discipline and leadership, and provides a constant round of extracurricular activities that employ their talents and build espirit decorps.

Second Lt. Judy Long, right, and Sgt. Cindy Haaker inspect the ranks.

"The kids take the course to have an organization they can take charge of," Booth said. "They get a bang out of it;

they hang together. The organization gives the student a sense of belonging, as well as a chance to learn."

ON THE COVER

The 100 Chino High School students enrolled in the U. S. Air Force High School Reserve Officers Training Corps are taking part in a stimulating educational program that stresses sciences and leadership. At top, students visit the Chino Airport tower to learn about operations from air traffic control specialist Marv Burrier, and the color guard parades. versities in the state an an elective course in these subjects. The course is also accepted as a general science requirement for graduation.

The class meets daily for one 50-minute period with drills held after school. It is a three-year course that can be started in the freshman or sophomore year and can be dropped like any other high school course. The cadets earn five credits for each semester.

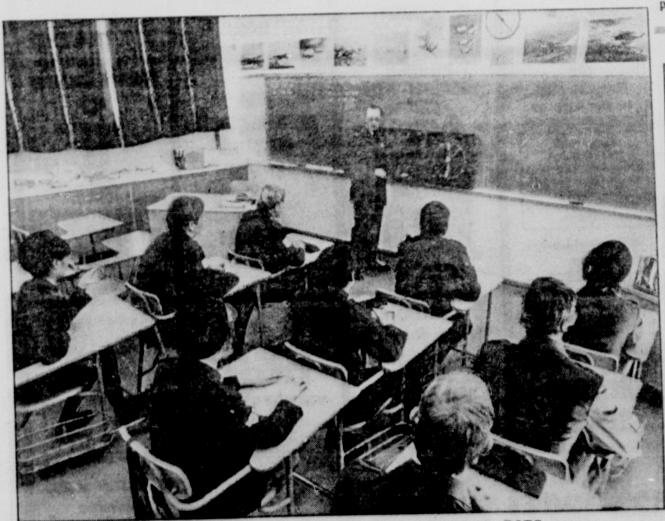

Head of the ROTC program at Chino is retired Col. William Booth, a native of Pornona. He is a graduate of the New Mexico Military Institute and San Jose State College, and during World War II he was commander of a 9th Air Force fighter squa-strictly military operation.

"Basically it's a science course and fulfills the requirements for high school science, but we use space and aeronautics as our vehicle," Booth said. "We employ all the physical laws and explain how and why planes operate. The intent is not recruiting. We don't try to get students to go into the service, but we provide a background they can use all their lives."

The course encompasses all the ground work required for a private pilot's license.

Armando Rossi, owner-manager of Pomona Health Foods, 1625 Indian Hill Blvd., displays bag of organically grown, hard red winter wheat.

Everything for the health buffs

Wild "Ginsing," a rejuvenator, and concentrated proteins, for body building, are topping the best-seller list this winter at Pomona Health Foods, 1625 Indian Hill Blvd., according to owner-manager Armando Rossi

1975 was a good year, Rossi said, and 1976 promises to be even better

Helen Rossi, Armando's wife, is managing the oneyear-old Covina Health Foods store at 130 Shoppers Lane, which the family opened in early 1975. "that store is twice the size of this one," said Rossi.

And at home, the Rossi family welcomed a new grandson, Phillip, on Jan. 5. This is the son of Rossi's eldest daughter, Alida. Phillips has a sister, Michelle.

Two other Rossi children, Gregg and Ginger are in college. Scott, the youngest, is a senior at Claremont High

They're all users of health foods and judging from the foods and supplements Rossi stocks, there must be many more in the valley

If you wish to start the day off with wild rice pancakes, Rossi has the mix. If your tastes runs more to cooked whole wheat cereal, you'll find clean red winter wheat bagged and ready, at Pomona Health Foods.

The store is extensively stocked with a variety of natural foods, recipes for its preparation and appliances to use in shredding, blending or juicing foods.

Pomona Health Foods is a supermarket with dairy products, vitamins, salad dressings, raw sugar and natural peanut butter.

Rossi stocks coffee substitutes made from barley and rye, a chocolate substitute recommended for those allergic to chocolate, organically grown, stone-ground wheat flour and natural honey.

Shoppers find unsweetened, undiluted apple juice, sauerkraut juice and even beet root juice, along with fresh crisp nuts and dried fruit.

Rossi sells fertilized eggs, raw butter, raw milk and even yogurt makers for those who wish to make their own. On a nearby shelf are 75 varieties of herb tea.

And if your weakness is candy, you'll find that, too, in Pomona Health Foods store. Rossi stocks a wide variety of candy bars, including Bob Hoffman's high protein line, all made with natural ingredients.

The Rossis are natives of New Jersey. They came to California on a vacation in 1970, and returned to live in 1971. They opened Pomona Health Foods on Aug. 1, 1971.

The parents worked fulltime in the store with the children pitching in after school and on weekends.

"We've found our success in good health," said Rossi.

Supermarket selection of health foods is stocked at Pomona Health Foods, including dairy products, vitamins, nuts and dried fruits.

Meet senior Ken Sockwell, Garey High's 1975-1976 ASB President.

Ken's record in student government goes back to the eighth grade, when he was a student council representative at Simons Junior High. Following that, he was ASB vice president at Simons in the ninth grade, ASB vice president and acting president in his junior year at Garey, and now is this year's student body president.
